LETTER FROM THE MAYOR

October 6, 2016

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the City of Los Angeles, welcome to the Women in International Trade-Los Angeles' (WIT-LA) 4th Annual Global Trade Awards Gala, a celebration of our city's economic strength and prosperity.

For over three decades, WIT-LA has recognized women leaders and promoted global trade in Southern California. WIT-LA provides a platform for international trade education, seminars, and networking - connecting its members to the Organization of Women in International Trade network of over 3000 members worldwide.

The City of Los Angeles continues to invest in its ports, transportation infrastructure, and in businesses here at home. It is the responsibility of our city to assist our local businesses to embrace and succeed in overseas markets. This is why I am launching a new export program that will help attract, educate, and assist our companies in selling abroad.

Congratulations to Federal Maritime Commissioner Rebecca Dye who was selected as this year's Outstanding Woman of the Year in International Trade. I also extend my congratulations to Guy Fox for his lifetime support of women in global trade and for being a champion of the Southern California trade community. I would also like to congratulate Kim Ngo, Rosa Hearn, Billie Sullivan, Robert Krieger, and Thai Huong.

To all attendees, I wish you a splendid event and much success in supporting international trade.

Sincerely,

ERIC GARCETTI
Mayor

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

October 6, 2016

Welcome to WIT-LA's Fourth Annual Global Trade Awards Gala!

On behalf of Women in International Trade, Los Angeles (WIT-LA), I would like to thank you for attending our 4th Annual Global Trade Awards Gala this evening as we commemorate a great year of programming and events in celebration of WIT-LA's more than 30 years of participation in the international trade community.

Tonight's event highlights this year's educational programs and global networking platform as we honor the trailblazers and catalysts in the international trade community.

WIT-LA takes pride in recognizing women leaders from as far away as Washington D.C. and Vietnam, and as close to home as Southern California area. I want to personally congratulate all the Global Trade Awards Winners.

Tonight, we take a few moments to recognize and honor women who have excelled in international trade and transportation, and contributed to global economic growth, whose efforts and accomplishments in conducting and promoting international trade have been exemplary. We believe that by recognizing and celebrating these outstanding leaders and influencers who have made unique contributions to our community and the international business arena, we expand the sphere and value of international trade.

We're honored to host the Global Trade Awards Gala as we celebrate with an evening filled with collegiality, excitement, and pride for the entire international trade community. I'd especially like to thank Mayor Garcetti for recognizing our efforts and for congratulating our award winners. I also want to recognize and express our appreciation to our dignitaries from foreign Consulates, and thank them for supporting us in recognizing such accomplished individuals.

We are so grateful for the support of our sponsors: The Port of Long Beach and PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), as well as other contributors to this important event. I'd also like to extend my gratitude to the DEC and the U.S. Commercial Service, wonderful organizations, that have partnered with us for this event. I sincerely extend my gratitude to the WIT-LA Board for all their hard work, and to our volunteers who are making this event so elegant and enjoyable. Without everyone's support, WIT-LA's educational programs and celebratory programs such as this would not be possible.

I look forward to sharing a memorable evening with you tonight!

Warm regards,

OUTSTANDING WOMAN OF THE YEAR IN INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Commissioner Rebecca F. Dye FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

Commissioner Rebecca F. Dye was originally confirmed and served two terms for the Federal Maritime Commission (FMC) under President George W. Bush, served two additional terms under President Barack Obama, and confirmed all four times by the United States Senate. Earning her law degree from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, she served as a commissioned officer, attorney - and later as law instructor of the United States Coast Guard Academy. Prior to her appointment to the FMC, Commissioner Dye served as Counsel to the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives advising Members of Congress on issues pertaining to commercial shipping, international maritime agreements, oil pollution, and maritime safety and law enforcement along with consulting on the Federal Budget and Financing Processes. She served as White House Military Social Aide during the Carter and Reagan Administrations, and enjoys the honor of being the first woman to act as Senior White House Military Social Aide for the Coast Guard.

Recognized as one of our nation's most experienced public policy leaders in international cargo transportation, Commissioner Dye worked across the aisle on Capitol Hill to enact successful solutions to major maritime transportation safety, security, and environmental challenges. She is respected by her peers and staff alike for her depth of knowledge and strong leadership ability. In addition, Commissioner Dye has been an active mentor and sponsor of talented women and men in the public and private sectors during her career.

On the advice of a favorite law professor while in college, Commissioner Dye accepted a commission as a U. S. Commissioner Dye resumed her career in international and maritime policy upon exiting active duty, and in 1987, accepted a maritime counsel's position on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee in the U.S. House of Representatives. In 1995, Commissioner Dye became Staff Director of the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee.

Earning the reputation as a skilled negotiator able to work across party lines in accomplishing policy objectives, her leadership was crucial in the enactment of major legislative solutions to economic, security and environmental crises, including:

Oil Pollution Act of 1990 - following the Exxon Valdez oil spill in Prince William Sound, Alaska

Ocean Shipping Reform Act of 1998 - deregulation of international ocean shipping;

Maritime Transportation Security Act of 2002 - established port and vessel security regime following the attacks of September 11, 2001

Commissioner Dye is an extremely credible supporter of free market solutions to commercial problems and an opponent of overregulation. She has presented internationally on competition law and policy, port congestion, and supply chain efficiency. She maintains an active interest in leadership training and employee engagement, as well as honing decision-making skills by individuals serving on public and private governing boards.

Commissioner Dye has continued to mentor and sponsor women and men at the Federal Maritime Commission and in the international shipping industry. wings" of women in global trade, and his unifying efforts in the ever-changing and continuing development of the industry as well as providing opportunities for the advancement of women in business and community engagement is outstanding.

One of Guy's most endearing qualities is his ability to uniquely challenge women to challenge themselves in order to accomplish their goals. In recognition of Mr. Fox's contributions and efforts towards the advancement of international trade and professional empowerment of women locally, regionally and worldwide, WIT-LA is proud to announce the establishment of the "Guy Fox Award" that will be awarded annually in recognition of men who distinguish themselves through their efforts for empowering women in global trade as Guy Fox has so steadfastly done his entire professional life.

Fox is a graduate of Pepperdine University and holds a Master's Degree in Business Administration, Presidential Key Executive MBA, and has earned lifetime teaching credentials for the State of California. He also received a "Certificate of Completion" from the International Institute of Studies and Training, Tokyo, Japan on the economics of Japan. *Congratulations,

INTERNATIONAL TRADE CATALYST OF THE YEAR

Billie R. Sullivan

When Billie Sullivan walked onto the floor at Lloyd's of London – being the first American woman ever invited to sit in an underwriters' box and given a "pen" (underwriting authority), several of her male counterparts that day were so incensed that a woman was sitting in the underwriters chair that one actually walked up to the sitting underwriter demanding she be sent away. What a shock for all those guys she had been working with for years – they had to come to grips very quickly that the "expert" they had been dealing with in the United States wasn't a "guy" Billie ~ but was indeed a woman.

The woman who has been impacting the marine insurance and transportation industry for over 40 years, Billie's perseverance to absorb everything possible about her chosen field and hold herself to the best standards possible led to this unique opportunity, and ultimately opened the door for other women – American and non alike - to seek and obtain underwriting authority not only with Lloyd's, London, but with all insurance companies. Today, women are widely accepted as Marine Underwriters in large part because of Billie's example – if she had turned out to be a "dud", those guys would have slammed the door on another female sitting in an underwriter box for a very, very long time.

Billie holds clients and co-workers alike to standards that are in themselves "insurance" by setting work models to provide the first line of defense in an ever litigious world. Her adherence to law for transportation intermediaries has "stamped" her and her support team alike as being experts on solving transportation insurance problems for her clients and ultimately their clients, her grasp of legal issues involved in transportation in its ever-evolving state into surface freight forwarding is phenomenal.

Her willingness to share the accumulated knowledge gained throughout her career is better than a college degree. Unlike many corporate women in her position of strength within the industry, Billie's willingness to engage others on a ground level and pull them through the learning process with her is admirable ~ if you're willing to learn, she's more than willing to teach.

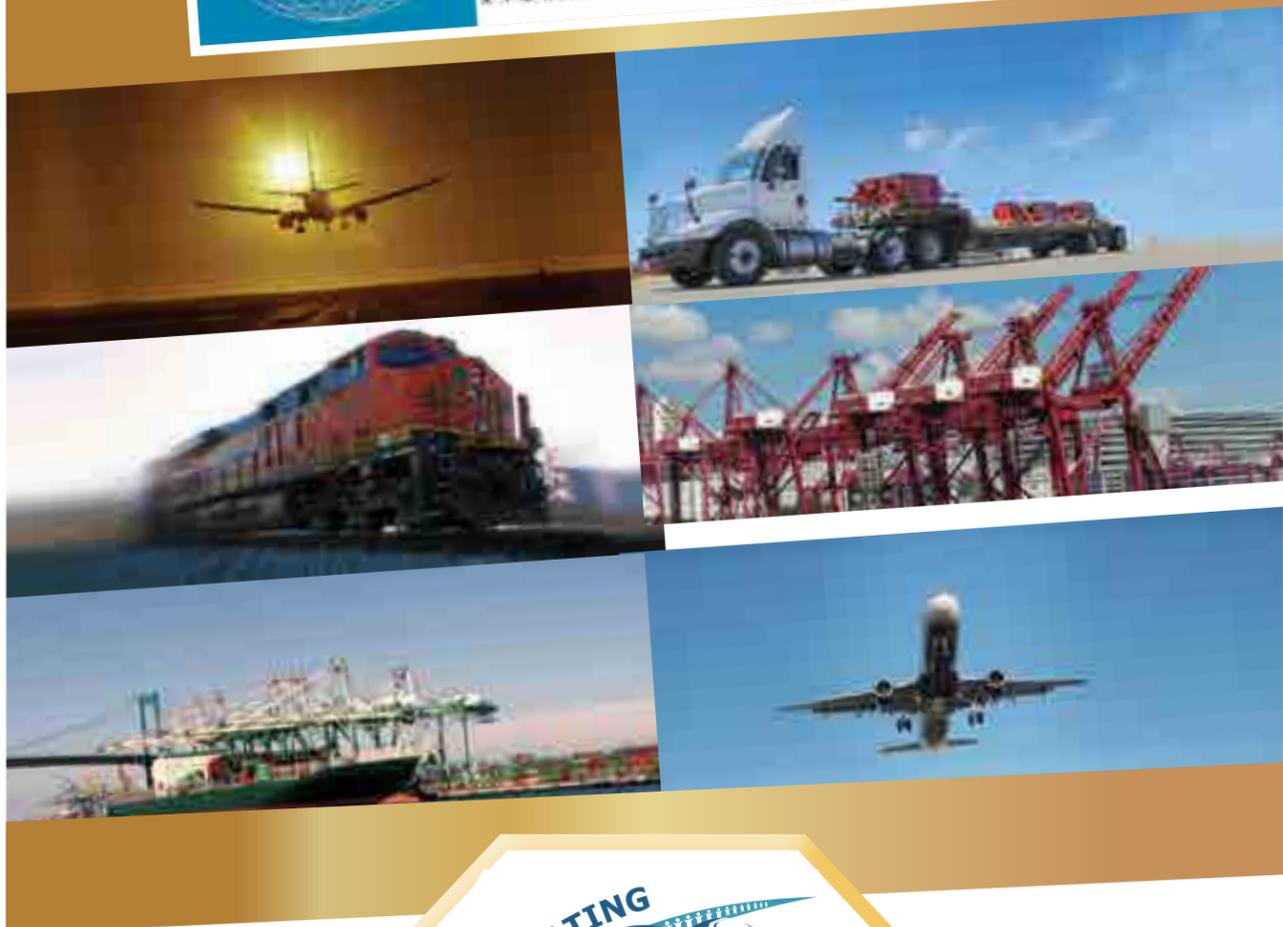

"I've always perceived my role as that of an educator. Although I have dedicated my insurance career to the air freight forwarding industry, as the air freight industry has expanded into air freight trucking, I continue to broaden the scope of my knowledge and education to include both worlds. The more I can teach my customers about their liability exposures and risk management, the greater the opportunity to lessen their losses and strengthen their business ties with their own customers. It's a privilege working with such dynamic people in the transportation industry!"

Billie is a licensed insurance broker with the State of California, an approved Lloyd's CoverHolder for over 35 years presently holding underwriting authority for the Munich Re Syndicate Ltd. She has served on the board of the Air & Expedited Motor Carrier Association since 2003, been a member of Airforwarders Association since 1990, serves on the conference planning committee for AEMCA's AirCargo 2017, and is a member of Transportation & Logistics Council, Los Angeles Air Cargo Association, and Marine Underwriters of Southern California.

WIT-LA Appreciates Robert Krieger! Congratulations!

WIT-LA MEMBER OF THE YEAR

Robert Krieger

Robert Krieger, although born in New York, moved to California at an early age and was raised in the Los Angeles area. He graduated from San Francisco State University in 1977 with a degree in Biology, and briefly attended medical school before joining Norman Krieger in 1979. While at Norman Krieger, Robert obtained his Customs Brokers License in 1982, and has held various positions at Norman Krieger until 1995 when he ascended to the position of President.

With Norman Krieger's platform as an International Freight Forwarder, Robert has focused on sharing his knowledge and expertise gained through the course of his career with others in the trade community. He has taught classes on Customs Brokerage, International Transportation & Logistics, and "How to Start an Import/Export Business" at CSULB and UCLA respectively, and through his experience and knowledge has presented to various groups in Hong Kong, Guanzhou, Melbourne, Sidney, Brisbane, Johannesburg, Cape Town, Durban, and Nuouvo Hamburgo. Krieger is a popular presenter at various trade associations including the Footwear Distributors and Retailers Association (FDRA), US Association of Importers of Apparel and Textiles (USFIA), California Fashion Association (CFA), and the Fashion Business Institute (FBI), has participated in two US Trade Missions, and has also served as a Director of the Foreign Trade Association of Southern California (FTA).

Robert actively engages his clients in participation at WIT-LA events and encourages them to explore the advantages of becoming WIT-LA members. His strong support for WIT-LA comes from the belief that WIT-LA membership affords value to import/export companies in the networking opportunities WIT-LA membership affords, and for the educational programs made available for the international trade industry through WIT-LA's live events and webinars. He also encourages Norman Krieger employees to participate in WIT-LA events, and Employee Charlotte Brown is serving as WIT-LA's Membership

Chair for the 2016 Term of Office largely in part due to Robert's encouragement. His support of both WIT-LA and his employees at Norman Krieger is appreciated by all. "As a father of five daughters, I appreciate that WIT-LA gives women a place to network with their peers and to mentor & be mentored by other women in the trade community."

What makes Robert's contribution to WIT-LA unique is his support goes beyond telling clients and employees about WIT-LA, he shows his support through attendance at WIT-LA programs and functions, and by sharing his appreciation of the benefits of WIT-LA membership with everyone he knows. WIT-LA loves our members like Robert!

Robert is the proud father of six children. His hobbies include collecting art deco, watches, and fountain pens as well as enjoying hiking and camping with his family. Outside of his family, Robert's greatest passion is in helping import companies achieve their goals of on-time product delivery while sustaining full import rules & regulations compliance, and being able to take advantage of paying the lowest duties possible.

Thank you, Robert!

*Congratulations,
Kim Ngo!*

INNOVATIVE WOMAN EXPORTER OF THE YEAR

Ms. Kim Ngo
CEO, ToBE, LLC

Ms. Kim Ngo is the current CEO of Nature Nano, and ToBe, LLC, a leading skin care company in Southern California. Ms. Ngo has been an innovator in the exporting of cutting-edge skin care technology products for the past fifteen years. In order to achieve success in this highly-competitive, constantly evolving multi-billion dollar industry, companies are continually looking for that next great break-through, and prior to her seat as CEO with Nature Nano, which manufactures Nature Nano Essential Oil blends, Ms. Ngo created her own specialized skin care line "ToBE Skin" based on technological advances that allowed her to deliver active ingredients deeper into skin and tissue through the utilization of stem cell and gold nano applications in the products. To ensure the purity of her skin care products, Ms. Kim established exclusive distribution rights to export stem cell skin products to countries throughout South East Asia and her home country Vietnam.

Realizing the specialized customer base her skin care line would appeal to, Ms. Ngo founded the Galaxy TV shopping network in the U.S. and Vietnam to develop her market share in the global marketplace and expand her user base for "ToBE Skin Care". This ultimately led to a broader marketing campaign through the use of social networking, website and social media exposures.

Ms. Ngo's brand is one of the elite few Asian skin care companies to promote and export its products utilizing this marketing method. Ms. Ngo continues to focus on increasing the distribution of her products throughout Asia, and has successfully negotiated the export of ToBe Skin Care products to Canada through her branding and marketing talent.

Ms. Ngo has utilized her influential skill set outside of the beauty and skin care industry through her KN Foundation, which has currently built three facilities in Vietnam and Cambodia to provide housing and education for foster children. Along with her personal donations which make up the bulk of the donations to the foundation, $2.00 of each product sold is also donated to the foundation.

Kim Ngo is a current WIT-LA Member as well as an active member in numerous other charities such as Room to Read, and is a firm believer that through innovative business models and marketing, she can educate and inspire other women to become successful in all their endeavors.

*Congratulations,
Rosa Hearn!*

INNOVATIVE WOMAN
IMPORTER OF THE YEAR

Rosa Hearn

Rosa E. "Rosa the Preferred Riveter" Hearn, is the current Product Manager of the Executive Team at Brighton-Best International, the largest master distributor of fasteners (nuts & bolts) in the world. Already known as "Rosa the Riveter" (her name is Rosa, she sells rivets), Rosa set out on a mission to bring in new product lines to her company ~ and bring them in she did. From Taiwan to Malaysia, China to India, Vietnam, Korea, and Thailand and more, Rosa's efforts resulted in millions of dollars of new market share for Brighton-Best International (BBI).

Fasteners – typically being an unbranded product – posed a remarketing challenge which Rosa met head-on. She drafted an innovative and aggressive marketing approach to the company that yielded BBI the right to use the brand "Preferred" (Preferred by Professionals) for their fasteners which also evolved into Brighton's Preferred Tool and Safety lines of products ~ both of which are necessary in the installation of fasteners. Their Preferred Tool and Preferred Safety lines now are in direct competition with those of Makita, Hitachi, Stanley, Black and Decker, now compete in the same awards categories, and are sold in BBI's Preferred stores in the US, Mexico, UK, Trinidad, Australia and Tobago.

Rosa - a bit of a competitive spirit at heart – took her innovative vision a step further, and became the first employee to propose and sell the company's new line of Preferred Tools, earning her the new nickname "Rosa the Preferred Riveter". This self-branding was such a huge success with the employees and company that her counter-part "Preferred Pete" was created. For Rosa, this was just all in a day's work.

Ms. Hearn is on the Board of Directors for Women in the Fastener Industry (WIFI), a non-profit organization that provides mentoring, networking and educational opportunities for women employed in the industrial fastener industry, and is the current President-Elect for the upcoming 2017/2018 Term of Office for WIFI. Having served prior as Director of Mexico & Latin America regions for WIFI, Rosa was instrumental in helping other female employees in the fastener trade to negotiate better working conditions and salaries, as well as helped them develop strategies to overcome cultural stereotypes. Through Rosa's mentoring and encouragement, WIFI has a scheduled event in Mexico City in June 2017 to cultivate a chapter in Mexico and provide a networking hub to bring women in the fastener trades together in that country.

*Congratulations,
Thai Huong!*

GLOBAL TRADE
AMBASSADOR OF THE YEAR

Mme. Thai Huong
VIETNAM

Madame Thái Huong, Chairwoman of Management Board of TH Group, is well-known as the Most Powerful “dairy woman” of Viet Nam, and has been honored as one of Asia’s 50 Power Businesswomen by Forbes in 2015 and 2016 for her revolutionary contributions to the dairy market of Viet Nam. She was awarded the “Gulfood Outstanding Achievement Award” for her contribution in the “clean and fresh milk revolution” in Vietnam at the world’s biggest annual food and beverage exhibition, Gulfood Dubai 2016.

“My passion for bringing health and well-being to others began when I chose to change the fact that there was no fresh milk available in my home of Hanoi, Vietnam. By establishing farms in the countryside on the outskirts of Hanoi, I am working to make fresh milk available to every child in Vietnam. I started ‘Total Happiness Naturals’ in the United States to introduce some of Southeast Asia’s most healthful fruits and botanicals to the U.S. peoples by utilizing the world’s most advanced technologies.”

Since TH launched its first products, the volume share of fresh milk has increased from 8% in 2009 to more than 30% by 2015. Madame Huong has continued effortlessly fighting for transparency in the marketplace with strict regulations of labeling and packaging for liquid milk products with detailed declaration of the raw materials’ origin so that the consumers can make better choices. It is her hopes that through this process, it will encourage the domestic production of fresh milk in her homeland.

In 2015, TH occupied 50% share of the fresh milk market share in Viet Nam. TH farm in Nghe An Province was recognized as the biggest centralized hi-tech dairy farm in Asia, and is the recipient of numerous Asian and international awards.

Not only focused on milk products, but under Madame Thai Huong’s lead, TH group invested in the research and development of their newest herbal beverage line which features the Gac Fruit, or Red Melon. The Gac Fruit is a well-known super fruit from Southeast Asia believed to encourage longevity and well-being. TH Herbs U.S. Inc. – a subsidiary of TH group, now headquartered in the United States, has released several varieties of their Gac Fruit-based herbal beverages which are manufactured and sold in the U.S. Branded under the “Total Happiness Naturals” entity, this product line has attracted the attention of health-conscious U.S. consumers and was awarded the “Readers’ Choice” for New Products in February 2015 by the Beverage Industry Magazine by a nearly 75% margin.

Madame Thái Huong is widely known for her social activism and contributions to alleviate the poor people in Viet Nam over the past three years. Her dedication can be observed in her offerings of a glass of milk a day to Vietnam’s poor children through their local school distributions, which amounts to over 20 million glasses of milk (around $6.3 million USD).

John Burcher Band

The Brass Bandits are 11 musicians who have gravitated to Wrightwood to make music. They all have numerous musical experiences ranging from rock & roll to classical and they all love the Big Band Era. Their organizer, John Burcher, has played with ensembles in the High Desert for several decades. His bands are known for always having a "horn section." He is on call with several bands when they need a "sub" whether for woodwinds, guitar or bass. While pursuing a career in Education Administration, he continued to perform in rock, country, and jazz bands, and often says, "If it sounds good it doesn't need a label."
